

Dominique Hinden

Master of Arts / Journalist

Relocation Specialist and Educational Consultant, Specialist for international employments and social security

Phone : +41 43 222 58 44

Skype dominique.hinden

dominique.hinden@transforma.ch

Education:

Studied German and French Linguistic and Literature at the Universities of Basel and Tours (France), graduating Master of Arts in 1998. Followed by studies at the school for Medias in Lucerne, graduating with the diploma of journalism in 2000.

Professional experience:

Between 1994 and 2000 worked as a substitute teacher for French and German at different Swiss gymnasiums and high schools. After the studies 2 years work placement as a journalist in a local newspaper in the region of Basel. From 2000 to 2006 economic editor at the Basler Zeitung, a big Swiss daily newspaper. Work stays with the newspaper in Bruxelles and Madrid. After a break of maternity employed for 3 years as economic editor at the Beobachter, the major Swiss legal advisor magazine for consumers. Since 2012 - after another break of maternity - relocation specialist, educational consultant and specialist for international employments and social security at Transforma Ltd.

Core areas of expertise:

Extensive experience of application practice for resident and work permit in Switzerland, good knowledge of the Swiss education system. Social security and work permit regulation in cases of international employments and posting of employees. Research and analyse of educative and economical subjects, used to manage issues with public authorities in a solution orientated way, project management for relocations to Switzerland, familiar with the different regions of Switzerland and the way of their daily life (cultural, structural and geographical).

Languages:

Business German, French, English; verbal Italian and Dutch